

DIGITAL FUTURES: STRATEGIES FOR THE INFORMATION AGE

Simon Tanner

Digital Consultancy Services, King's College London
e-mail: simon.tanner@kcl.ac.uk

Abstract

The challenge of the next decade is to effectively expend our limited resources to continually deliver better information resources through e-publishing mechanisms. This keynote will focus upon the benefits of collaboration and the means by which collaboration is particularly benefiting digital preservation strategies for the e-publishing community. We need to build sustainably, providing publishing opportunities for today without discounting future opportunities to trade, to share and to preserve our collective digital heritage.

June 2009
Printed on demand
by "Nuova Cultura"
www.nuovacultura.it

Book orders: ordini@nuovacultura.it